DETAILED ACTION

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 10/22/2003 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schinitsky et al. in view of Murad, Herstein and Taylor et al. for the reasons of record set forth in the prior Office Action and the further reasons below.

Schinitsky et al., Murad, Herstein and Taylor et al. were discussed in the prior Office Action and the same are incorporated herein.

Examiner has duly considered Applicant's arguments but deems them unpersuasive.

In response to applicant's arguments against the references individually, one cannot show nonobviousness by attacking references individually where the rejections are based on combinations of references. See In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981); In re Merck & Co., 800 F.2d 1091, 231 USPQ 375 (Fed. Cir. 1986). Further, the test for obviousness is not whether the features of a secondary reference may be bodily incorporated into the structure of the primary reference; nor is it that the claimed invention must be expressly suggested in any one or all of the references. Rather, the test is what the combined teachings of the references would have suggested to those of ordinary skill in the art. See In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981).

Applicant argues that none of the prior art suggests having a pH of more than 3.5. However, the prior art does teach a pH of greater than 3.5. Herstein teaches that a pH within 3.5 to 4.1 is preferred to facilitate entry of ascorbic acid into the skin and stabilize the ascorbic acid molecule (Column 10, lines 6-17). Applicant argues that Murad teaches away from having a pH of more than 3.5 because Murad discloses oral administration, however, Applicant provides no reason why oral administration teaches away from a pH of more than 3.5. Disclosed examples and preferred embodiments do not constitute a teaching away from a broader disclosure or nonpreferred embodiments. In re Susi, 169 USPQ 423 (CCPA 1971). For the same reasons, Herstein cannot be said to teach away from aminosugar. Applicant argues that the two phase system of Herstein cannot be combined with Schinitzky, however, the final product in Herstein is a single composition and there is nothing in Schinitzky which requires that ascorbic acid be mixed at the same time as the other ingredients. Further, the prior art does provide motivation to combine the prior art in that the components are taught in the art to be useful for treating wrinkles.

With respect to the inquiry about PTO-948, according to current policy the OIPE determines the acceptability of the submitted drawings. If no letter has been sent from the OIPE, the drawings are deemed acceptable, unless the Examiner determines that there are drawing errors that need to be addressed.
